To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to write this letter in reference to the construction of the new maintenance facility at the Brantford Golf and Country Club as carried out by Lanca Contracting Ltd..

From the outset of the project I was impressed at how well everyone at Lanca communicated with my own staff. Months before the project began, an excellent rapport was formed with Keith Lancaster and the Club. When construction began we were always aware daily (sometimes hourly) of what the status of the project was and upcoming events. We were able to anticipate the projects' next steps and this helped greatly in the smooth day-to-day running of the course during this tumultuous time. Both Steve Robertson's and Wayne Montour's presence on site helped allay any uneasiness that I may have had, having never been involved in the construction of a new facility. They were generous in providing their advice and experience to my own staff to ensure a superior facility was achieved.

There was no disruption to our private country club's membership during the construction timeline – peak golfing season. Considering the close quarters, the number of tradesmen on site and the scope of work undertaken this feat was carried out brilliantly.

Flexibility and patience regarding "our" changes and special requests were most appreciated. Clearly, there is a good relationship between Lanca and the sub-trades that were on site as demonstrated by the early completion date and attention to detail.

The design and construction of the building are first class. Everything "flows" together efficiently. Staff areas, repair shop, new and old storage and the environmental center all tie together beautifully.

Word of our new maintenance facility is travelling through the industry. We now have one of the finest golf course maintenance facilities in the province, if not the country. The Property Committee and Board of Directors have had tours giving very positive feedback. This facility will serve the needs of the club well into the future.

To have worked with such a professional contractor as Lanca, was a very rewarding experience.

Respectfully,

Paul Evenden
